Special Thanks!

A special thanks to Linn and Curtis for all the work they did finding and installing our new Food Counter in the Fellowship Room. It has been used several times and it is great!! It is handy to have good handy men around! Curtis also made a napkin holder for the napkins that always laid on the table, the holder makes it look so much neater. Thanks again to both of you! We all appreciate all that you do!

A good sermon is one that leaves you asking, "how did the preacher know so much about me?"

Carl's Dye-a-logue

My family has grown by one this last week. "Rachel" has "adopted" a black Lab from the animal shelter. As a shelter dog, "Shadow" has some trust issues...at least one human has already abandoned him.

We have some friends who have 17 years experience raising Labs and they were over on Tuesday. While they were at our house, apparently Princeton (our 3 year old Shih Tzu) got too close to Shadow's cage or toy or something and the two of them had a brief "discussion."

Of course we all scolded Shadow for attacking Princeton. Our friend said they were just figuring out territory and toy possession and that it looked a lot worse than it really was and we really only needed to be worried if it looks like there will be blood...we really don't want it to get to that point. (If you are not familiar with the size difference of a Lab and a Shih Tzu, we'll just say it is considerable.)

The bottom line is they were determining who was the "Alpha Male" in the home. What they fail to realize is that there already is an "Alpha Male" in our home...and neither of them is it: I am.

I am the head of the household...a position given me by God (see Ephesians 5:23). The two dogs can argue and "discuss" things all day, but I am the one in charge. I'm not trying to rile anyone up by saying this; I am wanting to make a point.

There are people who want to fuss and fight over who is the most important, over who is the "top dog." So we debate things and argue about things and get ourselves all worked up trying to show that we are number one.

Unfortunately, this can even be seen in churches. I say unfortunately because Ephesians 5:23 reads: "The husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, His body, of which He is the Savior."

The church already has it's "Alpha Male" and it is the One who is the "Alpha and Omega." We must submit to Him in all things.

Green Valley Bible Camp

It is time again to start thinking about GVB Camp. Applications are available now in the church office and on the table in the foyer. Be sure when you fill one out to provide all information requested (or NA if doesn't apply.) The church will pay all the fees for the campers who regularly attend Eastgate. If you have a friend who wants to attend, they will have to pay 120.00 for regular and 60.00 for day campers.

Regular camp is July 3-July 9 and is open to students age 11 by Oct. 1 thru 2016 High School graduates.

Day camp is July 4-7 and is open to students who have finished the first grade thru 11 years old. The church will provide transportation each day for day campers.

Turn in your completed application to the church office, Donna or Sarah by May 8 or as soon as possible!
